FUTURE OF THE "BOLTERS"

Senators of Both Parties Who Made History at St. Louis.

ACTION OF THEIR STATES

Four of the Republicans Will Hold Their Seats in the Senate—Of the Six Democrats Four Will Be Succeeded by Republicans and the Other Two Will Pass Out Soon.

Senator Teller is the only one of the six Republican Senatorial bolters from the St. Louis nomination whose future is yet determined. Senator Cannon, of Utah, has five, and Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, has four years yet to serve, so that it will be some time before it can be determined whether their new political alignment was, personally, a good investment. Just at present it looks as though it might prove to be. Utah indulged Senator Cannon by going for Bryan by 50,000 majority, and South Dakota backed up Senator Pettigrew by voting from her ancient moorings and going Democratic. Senator Mantle, of Montana, stayed in the Republican convention when the fiery Hartman followed the white plume of Henry of Colorado out of the hall—but the afterward became a full-fledged bolter and spoke in many parts of the West for Bryan. He has two years yet to serve in the Senate, but in his case, also, all signs are indicative that his investment was a good one. For Montana went for the silver combination by a crushing majority.

Tom Carter's Future.
The Montana Senator, who should have delirium tremens whenever he reads the election returns, is Thomas H. Carter, whose term expires in 1901. He supported McKinley throughout the campaign and will lose his high position of Montana State patronage for the next four years.

There is nothing in the present situation to warrant him in imagining that he can save his scalp from being removed by Charles S. Hartman, who is already after his seat, backed by a vote of confidence of the people of Montana. Senators Dubois and Squire are engaged at the present time in desperate struggles for re-election before legislatures that are in entire harmony with their course in the campaign, but which show a tendency to turn them down.

The chances of both gentlemen are decidedly better than they were a week ago, but neither can be yet said to be out of the woods. Dubois is putting up one of the strongest fights ever made in Idaho. The Republican party now existing in Idaho are now, even in this year of strange political alliances. There is practically no McKinley party in Idaho. The Republican party organization, and now control more than a third of the legislature. The Democratic national committee is fighting with desperation to help him, and he seems to need all the help he can get.

Their Energies Exhausted.
The rival Populist candidates, W. H. Clagett and Texas Angel, are his most formidable competitors, but their energies are being exhausted in an uncomprehending struggle with each other.

It is Dubois against the field, with the chances about even.

Senator Squire was supposed to have little chance of success when the legislature was first known to be fusion, but he has been steadily gaining since, and his chances are now deemed exceedingly good. He is not embarrassed by any such implied pledge between Democrats and Populists as that which hampers Dubois in Idaho, but he is without the help of two elements that have been powerful aids to Dubois in his candidacy.

The national Democratic committee, though not unfriendly to Squire, is not enlisted in his behalf, and Senator Teller, who has thrown all his powerful personal influence for Dubois, has been passive in Squire's case. Teller's superior interest in the Idaho case is explained by the fact that Dubois and himself departed from St. Louis together, while Squire came into the Bryan fold later on.

A Unanimous Vote.
Meantime, the grim, gray Senator from Colorado awaits for himself one of the most splendid personal vindications known to the history of American politics. He is about to be re-elected United States Senator by a unanimous vote, although there are five distinct parties which share between themselves the membership of the Colorado legislature.

In the Senate of the Fifty-fifth Congress, therefore, at least four of the Republican bolters, and perhaps all of them, will continue to be the members. Far different will be the fate of the six Democratic bolters who left their party during the campaign.

Senators Brice, Vilas and Palmer disappear from Congress and will be succeeded by Republicans. Gray of Delaware lost two, Caffery of Louisiana has four years, and Lindsay of Kentucky has the same period yet to serve. But Gray is the only one of these who has any reason to hope that he may return to the Senate, and his only chance is that he may be the joint candidate of Republicans and one Democratic wing.

POOR TUCKER'S FAMILY.

Distressful Condition of Wife and Children of the Injured Man.

James Tucker, No. 2077 Thirty-second street, the line-man, who now lies at Emergency Hospital with two broken legs, as told in The Times, will, it is said, be compelled to have one of the injured members by amputation. The other leg suffered an ugly fracture and will be a long time in healing.

Tucker was a hard-working man and leaves a wife and six little children without support. When first taken to the hospital he made a pitiful appeal to the house surgeons to cut his throat, saying that he did not care to live and think of the suffering his wife and little ones would be compelled to bear.

It is understood that the attention of the Associated Charities had been called to the case, but a gentleman who visited Tucker's home last evening was authority for the statement that no aid had yet been received from that source.

At the time of the accident the family was entirely dependent upon the husband and father. It is said that he asked permission of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, by which he was employed, to use the wood from the poles he was cutting down when injured for fuel.

The only relative of the family in the city is a brother of Mrs. Tucker, and he is at present out of work, it is said. It will be several weeks before Tucker is able to leave the hospital.

Injunction May Be Asked.
Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 9.—No definite action was taken by the conference of railway officials here today on the reduction of 20 per cent in fertilizer rates ordered by the State railroad commission. Some of the lines could not be represented, and another meeting will be held on Monday to decide whether to ask for an injunction restraining the commission from enforcing the cut.

Estimate for Chemical Laboratory.
The Secretary of the Interior yesterday sent to the House an estimate made by the director of the Geological Survey for a chemical laboratory in the new postoffice building.

PLANS FOR THE CARNIVAL

Event of McKinley and Hobart Club and Ladies' Auxiliary.

DONATIONS ARE POURING IN

Novel Feature of the Festival Will Be a Recruiting Station—Nights Named After States—The First Night Will Be Known as District Night.

Arrangements for the carnival, February 2, in Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the McKinley and Hobart Marching Club and the ladies' auxiliary, are being rapidly put in shape.

The joint committee of the two organizations held another meeting last night, at No. 412 Seventh street northwest, and adjourned at its conclusion until next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Odell presided. Mrs. John A. Logan, who is president of the Woman's Republican Association, will preside at the opening night of the carnival and introduce the speakers. The list of those who will make addresses has not yet been completed, but the names will be drawn largely from the Congressional set at present in the city.

Donations Received.
Large donations are already pouring in for the event and the plans for decorations have been elaborately outlined. The center and largest booth will be named "California," in honor of the handsome majority the Golden Gate State rolled up at the recent election. It will be devoted exclusively to flowers and fruit, while a recruiting station will be located there.

This station will prove one of the features of the carnival. The McKinley and Hobart Marching Club already has more members than any other political organization in the city, and its membership will be largely swelled through the enrollments during the carnival, it is believed. The station will be in charge of Miss Mary Kreidler, the sponsor of the club, and sister of the state's battle cry.

A reception committee of twenty members will be appointed to do duty during the whole function.

District Night.

The first night will be known as District night. Another will be designated Congressional night, and an evening each will be named in honor of some of the larger States. All of the organizations of the city will be invited to take part during the ten days in which the carnival is in progress.

A paper, entitled "The McKinley and Hobart Carnival Happenings," and edited by Col. W. S. Odell and Miss Watson, will be issued each night. A luncheon will be served daily under the auspices of a committee, of which Mrs. Blasland is chairman and W. T. Crump, steward of the White House, under President Garfield, is vice president.

GERMANY'S DYNAMITE TRADE.

Exports the Explosive to Every Important Country Except America.

Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill recently called upon the United States consuls at Amsterdam, Bremen, Glasgow, Hamburg, Liverpool, and Southampton for information on the manufacture of dynamite in their districts and its export therefrom.

As a result it is learned that none is made in Holland or in the Liverpool, Southampton and Bremen districts, and that each of the consuls report that the most extraordinary secrecy was preserved and every precaution taken to prevent them from securing information.

The single company in the Glasgow district exported principally to Australia and Cape Colony and from the Hamburg district alone was a satisfactory statement obtained. There, Consul Robertson, after persistent effort, was able to learn that the dynamite trust of England and Germany has about to build a large factory in Johannesburg, South Africa, that Germany exports dynamite to every important country of the world except the United States, and imports none, and found an explanation for the secrecy in the remark that American competition was so damaging to Central and South Africa that it was not proposed to give Americans any information, especially as to the closing of mines and the competition of railroads, to which American manufacturers had been selling their products had now compelled them to look for other markets.

FORBIDS FALSE PRITENSE.

Bill to Punish Impersonation of Health Officials.

The Commissioners of the District yesterday forwarded to Congress the draft of a bill proposed by the attorney, which is intended to punish persons convicted of impersonating the health office inspectors.

The need of such a measure, the health officer says, was recently demonstrated in a case where a veterinary surgeon represented himself to a certain dairyman as the official veterinarian of the department, examined the cattle upon the premises, and collected a fee therefor. No names are given.

The bill provides that it shall be unlawful for any person in the District to represent himself or herself as being an inspector of the health department, or an inspector of any department of the District government.

Any person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, for the first offense, and for every subsequent offense the fine will be not less than $50 nor more than $100, or imprisonment for six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SNOW AND ICE REMOVAL.

Commissioners Make the Law Applicable to County.

An amendment to the snow and ice law which makes its provisions applicable to the county as well as the city, was adopted by the Commissioners yesterday and forwarded to Congress for its consideration.

The act, as it is proposed to be, empowers the Commissioners to extend the law to such parts of the District outside the city as they may from time to time designate, and also authorizes them to hold the agents of the property of non-residents responsible for the proper execution of the regulations.

Agents and others who fail to comply with an order to remove from the pavement any collection of snow and ice or gravel or other rubbish that washes from the lots adjoining the pavement may be fined at the rate of $1 per lot for every day the obstructions shall be permitted to continue.

Passenger Fares in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 9.—The State railroad commission has refused to reduce passenger fares to 2 cents on the roads in Georgia. The application for lower fares was made some months ago by the Travelers' Protective Association, and it was urged by E. E. Smith, the national president of the association. This organization is supposed to be behind the movement in Illinois for a 2-cent rate.

HOUSE AND HERRMANN,

Liberal Furnishers,
Cor. 7th and I Streets.

FOR MEMORIAL HALL.

Bill to Perpetuate Memories of Lincoln, Grant and Farragut.

Mr. Draper, by request, yesterday introduced in the House a bill to incorporate the Abraham Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant and David G. Farragut Memorial Building Association.

The bill provides that the sum of $100,000 is to be appropriated as the contribution of the United States and the trustees are to take such means as they see proper to raise the remaining funds.

It further provides that the major general commanding the Army, the senior admiral on the active list of the Navy, the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of the Interior are made the incorporators. It shall have full power to purchase a suitable lot of land in the city of Washington and erect and maintain a memorial building.

The building is set apart as a place for the preservation of such records, books, papers, relics and other property of historical interest and value in connection with the late war as may from time to time be received from associations of Union veterans of that war or from other sources. The corporation is also authorized to receive and hold works of art representing scenes in the civil war or the heroes of that struggle.

SHOOTING CASE DROPPED.

Police Do Not Place Much Credence in Hotel Clerk Trodden's Story.

No arrests were made last night in the case of John S. Trodden, night clerk of the Hotel Jefferson, who claimed to have been shot at by a burglar early yesterday morning.

There will probably be no further investigation. Detective Hartigan, of Lieut. Kelly's precinct, was detailed upon the case, and made a thorough overhauling of the facts. The police are not inclined to believe the story told by the night clerk. Two officers were within a block of the hotel and heard only two pistol shots, and Trodden himself claims to have fired that many bullets.

BATTLESHIP TEXAS TRIP.

Will Visit Galveston to Receive an Elaborate Silver Service.

Secretary Herbert has ordered the battleship Texas to visit Galveston on February 16 to receive an elaborate silver service costing about $5,000, the money having been raised through popular subscription through the State for which the vessel was named.

Down with the rest.

The crash of falling prices was heard throughout the city yesterday. The sound brought hundreds of curious sight-seers here, but those who came to look stayed to buy. Other dealers' "clearing prices" are far too big when once we determine to give you all the profits for a few days, and this is the way we slaughter even the cost marks. Get your share early Monday morning.
